

Delplenum: Effektive folkehelseiltag

Titel: Development of evidence informed health promotion guidelines to the Danish municipalities, 2012-2013 (Udvikling af vidensbaserede forebyggelsespakker til de danske kommuner, 2012-2013)

Foredragsholder: Barbara Hjalsted, Overlæge Sundhedsstyrelsen, Danmark

Indhold: The purpose of the health promotion packages is to give the municipalities an evidence-informed tool that can assist them in prioritizing and planning multisectoral, effective preventive interventions and to stop ineffective measures. The packages are designed to promote quality interventions for all citizens and to reduce health inequalities.

In consultation with technical and municipal experts and civil society, the Danish Health and Medicines Authority developed eleven health promotion packages with recommendations for local interventions in the areas of alcohol, drugs, healthy food and meals, hygiene, indoor climate in schools, mental health, obesity, physical activity, sexual health, sun protection and tobacco.
